Answers:

- 1> Sheep - Sea urchins were used in some of the earliest experiments with cloning.
- 2> Robert Franklin Stroud - Charles was known as 'Pretty Boy' Floyd.
- 3> Ireland - Wilde was born in Dublin in 1854.
- 4> Limburger - The other three are Italian.
- 5> Blue Bombers - The acronym CFL stands for Canadian Football League.
- 6> Eat it - Bisque is a type of soup.
- 7> Mariners - The Astros play in Houston.
- 8> Edward - Edward VII was married to Alexandra of Denmark.
- 9> Espadrilles - Espadrilles are worn on the feet.
- 10> Link - Link is from the Legend of Zelda.
- 11> Xbox - The system uses the player as the controller.
- 12> 1944 - The eruption destroyed a number of American planes.
- 13> Australia - This is the world's largest coral reef.
- 14> Rhode Island - That makes it the state with the longest official name.
- 15> Ionic - Atoms that need a few electrons to fill their outer shells are looking for atoms with electrons to give up. When electrons move from one atom to another, the electrical charges change. One atom becomes negative, one positive and, because opposites attract, you get ionic bonding.
